COLOGNE, Oct. 13.—The Cologne Gazette prints another spirited dispatch from Berlin apropos of the Figaro's denial of the Martin's story, which can only be interpreted as a plain hint to the British government to explain its role in the matter. The dispatch notes that while the Martin's story gave ground for the assumption that the suggested alliance of France with Great Britain against Germany had an official character, the Figaro's version confirms the assumption by giving the names of the parties, and says that this makes the case against Germany all the stronger. The mention of the name of Lord Lansdowne, the British foreign secretary, in connection with the matter sheds upon the story an embarrassing light for Great Britain, according to the dispatch, which says:

"It is exceedingly repugnant to us to see British statesmen like Premier Balfour and Foreign Secretary Lansdowne capable of such a game, but if revelations are repeated and remain uncontradicted one cannot avoid growing more and more skeptical that French statesmen, who undoubtedly are men to be taken seriously, could have believed that there was an offer of a British alliance if no adequate basis existed for such an exceedingly serious matter."

The writer goes on to say that the fall of Delcasse, who occupied a position of exceptional strength in the French cabinet, becomes comprehensible in view of the gravity of the revelations already made. If the Martin and Figaro are in the right, the dispatch says, Delcasse, after having reached an understanding with Great Britain, was duping his policy for war with Germany and when a question of such importance is one raised it cannot remain unanswered or unexplained.

The dispatch goes on to point out that neither the British nor the French government has hitherto known a disposition to come forward with explanations, while the semi-official note regarding the matter is insufficient. The Paris note is inadequate and calculated to increase rather than allay suspicion. After saying that the question will doubtless be discussed in the French chamber of deputies and the British parliament, the article concludes:

"While the work of clearing up this matter is primarily the affair of France and Great Britain, still Germany takes a most reasonable interest therein. Although subsequent events have removed the further developments of the incident from close attention, we can learn many things from them."

THREE BRUTAL MURDERS
CONCEALED BY CONVICT
JUST BEFORE SUICIDE

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—Alexander Wallace, superintendent of police, received a letter today from James B. Smith, warden of the Southern Illinois penitentiary at Joliet, Ill., enclosing a confession by a prisoner named James M. Brown, a few hours before he committed suicide in jail. In the confession Brown states that he and two companions murdered Thomas D. Kahney, the Mount Washington grocer, for which crime Jack and Edward Riddle and Walter Dorman were convicted. The Riddles escaping the hangman's rope by breaking from the jail with the assistance of the warden's wife and fleeing to Butler county, where they were located and slain by deputy officers. In addition to the murder of Kahney, Brown charges himself and companions with having robbed and murdered a man while on the way from the killing of Kahney. The body of the second man, he said, was thrown into the Monongahela river. Brown also says that he and one companion murdered the third member of their party and burned the body.

UNIVERSAL REGRET VOICED IN RUSSIA ON TROUBETSKOY'S DEATH.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 13.—The Russian press today expresses genuine and hearty sorrow at the death yesterday of prince Sergius Troubetzkoy, the foremost liberal in Russia and former president of the zemstvo convention, whose ability and sincerity were admired and appreciated even among his strongest opponents. His death removes a restraining influence over the Moscow students and may cause the closing of the university. The council of professors in the prince's absence yesterday was unable to prevent a big meeting of students in the university building which was largely attended by outsiders. Prince Troubetzkoy's funeral will take place in Moscow.

MISSOURI BUILDING
AT PORTLAND FAIR
DESTROYED BY FIRE

PORTLAND, Oct. 13.—The Missouri state building at the Lewis and Clark centennial exposition was completely destroyed by fire tonight. Practically nothing of the magnificent exhibit gathered by the Missouri state commission was saved and the beautiful collection of art and statuary, which was one of the features of the Missouri display, will prove almost a total loss. It is estimated that the pecuniary loss will exceed $500,000, with no insurance save $50,000 on the exhibit.

The superintendent of the building, Ed. C. Crumbach, of Columbia, Missouri, the only person within the structure at the time, is of the opinion that the fire had its origin in the same faulty electrical construction which has been the cause of several incipient blazes in different buildings at the fair.

ALFRED VANDERBILT
HAD NARROW ESCAPE
IN AUTOMOBILE BREAK.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Alfred G. Vanderbilt, W. G. Sator, the Italian automobile driver, had a narrow escape from serious injury while racing in Vanderbilt's high power automobile over the Vanderbilt cup course on Long Island today. They had taken the car out for a trial spin and were going at a speed of ninety miles an hour down the narrow road from Albertson's station toward the double reverse curve that is the dread of every driver entered for tomorrow's race. To the watching crowd at the turn it seemed that the machine was beyond control and would shoot straight ahead into the field.

Within thirty yards of the first sharp curve in the "S" Vanderbilt slipped on the brakes. There was a succession of loud reports and the wheels skidded across the gutter and against the south earth at the side, where three big telephone poles were directly in its path. By a fraction of an inch the machine missed the first of them, and its rear wheels actually grazed the second. Then the machine turned over on its side and threw its occupants out into the soft earth. Sator was slightly bruised, but Vanderbilt was uninjured. They righted the machine and finished the course.

HARRIMAN IS COMING HOMEON SAME STEAMER WITH MISS
ALICE ROOSEVELT.Railroad Magnate Spoke of the Trade
Possibilities in the Oriental Countries.

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 13.—The Pacific Mail steamer, Siberia, sailed for San Francisco at 3:25 o'clock this afternoon, with Miss Alice Roosevelt and her traveling companions, and E. H. Harriman, president of the Southern Pacific company, and his party, on board. The distinguished Americans were given a great send-off by the Japanese, the resident foreigners and civil officials.

Before his departure, Harriman said: "We have been treated with the utmost courtesy and consideration by the Japanese people. I believe largely because we are Americans. We had no disagreeable experiences. At Tokio Dr. Lyle was accidentally hit with a stone while out with the party, he being unknown to his assailant. From all we met with the same direct, straightforward treatment as at home and experienced no difficulty from the Orientals."

"I believe there is a market for American goods, but they should be handled by Americans directly representing the styles and quality of goods demanded in this market. The market, like others, must be carefully watched and competed for. Then there will be a gradually increasing trade between the two countries, but it cannot be developed suddenly."

"Previous statements regarding the Oriental trade have been exaggerated. It is very much like trade elsewhere, and needs care in competition. I am leaving with regret. Our stay was too short, but I believe it marks the beginning of an association which will result in a lasting commercial alliance between America and Japan. Our interests, however, must be husbanded by direct, straightforward methods."

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 13.—"Prophecy" Dowie of Zion City, and party left this morning for Tampico, in a special car. They will spend a few days there prior to examining lands which they propose to purchase for a new Zion City in the tropics. Dowie is in good health.

ARTILLERY MEN
IN A DISASTERSTAMPEDE OF HORSES CAUSED BY
WAVING FLAGS.One Man Killed, Two Fatally and Others
Seriously Injured—Horses
Over Cliff.

JUNCTION CITY, Kans., Oct. 13.—Private Albert Laste, of the twenty-ninth battery of field artillery, was killed at Fort Riley at noon today. Privates John Soually and Judge Simpson of the same battery, are thought to be fatally injured and Privates Leary, Norman, Lancaster and Cline, of the same organization, are in the hospital with broken limbs and internal injuries. A large number of other artillerymen were badly hurt. The accident that caused the death of Laste and injury of the others occurred about two miles north of Fort Riley.

The twenty-ninth battery is one of the six making up the first provincial regiment of field artillery at target practice. The battery's guns had been positioned at the rear with six horses hitched to each limber. The drivers had dismounted. When the battery was ready for firing a large red flag was run up on a staff as a signal to the range party at the targets to get out of range of the guns. The wind blew the flag out in the faces of the horses and the stampede at once. Some drivers succeeded in getting into their saddles, others were dragged, and the most of the drivers were left behind. The horses dashed over a small cliff and went down in a frightful mass. The twenty-ninth battery belongs at Fort Leavenworth and comes here the latter part of July for target practice. Private Laste enlisted in the service last January. His home is in New York.

SIR HENRY IRVING DEAD:
NO WARNING WAS GIVEN
Attack of Syncope Carried Off the Tragedian After Playing Becket
At Bradford, Yorkshire

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The English speaking world has suffered an irreparable loss by the sudden death tonight of Sir Henry Irving, who was really regarded as the most representative English actor of contemporary times.

Sir Henry died literally in the harness. He was giving a series of farewell performances in the English provinces and this week was playing an engagement at Bradford, appearing in several favorite roles. Thursday he presented "King Rene's Daughter" and "The Bells" and seemed to be in excellent health, taking the exhausting part of Mathias in the latter play with all the vigor of youth. Tonight, before an enthusiastic audience, he portrayed one of his most characteristically intellectual parts, the title role in his own stage adaptation of Lord Tennyson's "Becket," with marked success.

After the performance Sir Henry returned to the hotel, reaching his room at 11:30 o'clock, where it was observed that he was in great pain. Physicians were immediately summoned, but before they could arrive Sir Henry was seized with an attack of syncope and expired within a few minutes, without having uttered a word, in the presence of Henry Stoker, who had been his immediate manager for many years, and a few intimate friends. The event caused the greatest pain and consternation among the members of the company.

The Associated Press tonight received the following telegram from Stoker: "Very terrible news. Henry Irving had an attack of syncope after returning from the theater to the hotel tonight, and died suddenly."

"The last time I saw him was at the Garrick club in London on the 10th of last July. It was at a dinner at which Sir Henry, Henry Matthews, three or four persons and I were present. Sir Henry was in excellent spirits. He had just finished a six weeks' London engagement at the Drury Lane theater, where he had been given the most enthusiastic receptions, the demonstrations in his honor sometimes lasting as long as twenty minutes. At that time he told us his plans for the season, saying that he expected to play until the holidays in England, then rest during the season in the provinces and end the season at Drury Lane. It had been his intention to come to the United States this season, but the attack of illness which he suffered last spring broke up that plan."

Frohmman spoke with much feeling of Irving's great regard and respect for President Roosevelt and the late Secretary Hay and his earnest desire to again visit the United States.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The news of the death of Sir Henry Irving was received too late to permit of more than brief announcements in this morning's leading newspapers.

The Daily Telegraph and the Morning Post, however, print lengthy memoirs, speaking of him as the greatest actor of his period. The Morning Post says:

"No stronger personality, no more unflinching activity, has within long memory adorned the English stage. His death is a national loss and his memory a national possession. Had he gone to the bar he would have reached the bench; if into the church he would surely have become a bishop. He chose the stage and was easily the foremost actor of his time."

The Times says: "Henry Irving was a great actor, but his greatness sprang from a different source than that of any other actor who can be mentioned. The success of his famous predecessors lay in their power to affect the emotions of the audience through the strength of their own convictions. Irving was not an emotional actor or one who touched the emotions. His greatness lay in his brain, not in his feelings, and his appeal was to the brain and not to the emotions."

Ethel Barrymore's Tribute. Ethel Barrymore, friend, pupil, and fellow actor of Sir Henry Irving, was told of the death of the great actor at the end of the performance last night by Henry Stoker, acting manager. Shortly afterward she was interviewed by a Republican reporter.

"There were traces of tears in her eyes. 'I can't talk of Sir Henry's death. It is such a shock. What I have to say to the public I'd much rather write, because I can't talk about it with calmness.'"

Miss Barrymore then wrote the following, which expresses her idea of the greatness of Sir Henry Irving:

"The death of Sir Henry Irving marks a new era. His loss is irreparable. He made history and there is no one to take his place; he made a position that only he could fill."

"He was a great actor, a great gentleman and a great friend. His distinction of mind placed him high among the world's most distinguished men; his generosity and liberality to all, worthy or unworthy, is proverbial. He called himself the humble servant of the public, but for many years he held the public in his slave."

"He was a great soldier, for when his fort, (the Lyceum), was taken from him and his funds gone, he went on and on to the end. He was old and ill, but his magnificent courage helped him to fight through his last battle with his public around him, cheering as only the great are cheered. It is a difficult thing in this century to die a great man and Sir Henry Irving has just died."

"ETHEL BARRYMORE."

In the company last night were two other fast friends of Sir Henry Irving, one was Herbert Percy, who played the part of Arthur Branthorpe, and the other was Charles Barrymore, who was Tom O'Leary.

Charles Barrymore was with Sir Henry Irving for eight years, from 1880 to 1888, and made three tours of America with him. In speaking of Sir Henry Irving, Barrymore said:

"Sir Henry was much beloved, and deservedly so. He was a great man and like all great men he had his peculiarities. His love of acting and actors, first, last and all the time. In money matters he was foolishly generous, not in the way of salaries, though he always saw that his company was paid all it was worth, but in the matter of giving money away. He was lavish to a fault, kind hearted and big hearted."

"He was deeply grateful to the American people for the support they gave him. No more sincere or honest sentiment ever came from the man than when he said he loved the people of this country. This country overlooked his terrible mannerisms—for he had terrible mannerisms—and saw that he was a man with greatness of ideals. He made us feel everything he touched and the United States recognized the man's real soul in his acting."

"Sir Henry was very kind to me, as he was kind to all persons who worked with him, and we were very fond of each other. The news of his death makes me very sad, but I am glad he has fallen like a soldier—a much better death than if he had lingered in a slow death."

"Sir Henry was very fond of Henry Ward Beecher, for whom he had the highest love and regard."

"I was with Sir Henry Irving when he presented 'The Merchant of Venice' at West Point, one only time that a company has ever played on the reservation. A number of senior officers from West Point saw in Henry's productions of 'The Merchant of Venice,' 'Charles the First,' 'The Merchant of Venice' and the dozen other great plays he was putting on at the old Star theater. One of the officers said he wished his cadets could see the play."

"If you can't come to us here at the Star, we will go to you at West Point," said Sir Henry. "The Star was closed for a night and the company put on 'The Merchant of Venice' in one of the halls at West Point without a stitch of scenery, nothing but bare walls behind."

Herbert Percy, who has known Sir Henry Irving well in recent years, said he was sorry that Sir Henry was dead, but he said: "It is gratifying to know that he died in the harness. He could not have asked to do otherwise."

Collins' Return To San Francisco. HE HAS WAIVED USUAL DELAY ON COMMITMENT. Warrant Will Be Received In About a Week and He Will Be Surrendered.

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 13.—George D. Collins, the lawyer, who was appealing to the Supreme court against Judge Lampan's order committing him for extradition to San Francisco for perjury, abandoned his appeal this afternoon and will be returned as soon as the warrant of surrender can be received from Ottawa. He has written to Ottawa waiving the usual fifteen days delay and asking that the warrant for his surrender be issued at once. An Ottawa dispatch says the department of justice has agreed to do this and will issue the warrant immediately. The notification will be telegraphed tomorrow and the warrant should arrive about a week hence. Collins will then be turned over to the San Francisco detectives.

Collins said he is anxious to return, as his business interests are exceedingly pressing and he is anxious to fight his case, and incidentally his enemies, at San Francisco. He feels certain of acquittal and will then proceed criminally and civilly against those "who have hounded him."

In abandoning his habeas corpus proceedings set for November 1, Collins is returning under the commitment of Judge Lampan, sitting as extradition commissioner, on August 14. He said he had been given an understanding that he would not be prosecuted for any offense other than that of perjury, upon which application was made for his extradition. The alleged perjury was in denying marriage with Charlotte E. Newman on an answer to her plea in a maintenance suit brought at San Francisco.

SANTA BARBARA
CAUSE CELEBREELISIA CAREAGA DE SAMMANN
WON THE SUIT.Being Declared Daughter of Juan B.
Careaga She Inherits Valuable
Oil Lands.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 13.—After a trial extending over nearly four weeks in the Superior court of this county a suit involving the ownership of half a million dollars' worth of property, the jury today decided the issue of the parentage of Elisia Careaga de Sammann upon which the case has turned, in less than five minutes. Mrs. Sammann was declared by the jury to be the daughter of the late Juan B. Careaga and as such entitled to a fourth interest in his estate, consisting of about 10,000 acres of oil land in Santa Barbara county, in the center of the Los Alamos oil belt. Conservative estimates of the value of this property place this figure at about $500,000. The land is under lease to the Western Oil company and the ranch bears about fifteen producing wells.

But one vote was taken by the jury on each of the two issues presented and the verdict was unanimous in each instance. The first issue in the case was: "Was Juan B. Careaga the father of Elisia Careaga de Sammann?" The verdict was, "Yes."

The jury returned to the courtroom within ten minutes after it had retired. The case will undoubtedly be appealed.

While the verdict rendered today was decisive as to the parentage of Elisia, it does not end the litigation and the estate will be long in the courts pending partition, unless there is an amicable settlement between the heirs. Under the California law, as quoted in the instructions given to the jury, the subsequent marriage of Juan B. Careaga and Mrs. Careaga following the birth of Elisia several years, the verdict of the jury entitles Mrs. Sammann to recognition as the legitimate daughter of Careaga.

QUARANTINE ON UNIFORM BASISSANITARY EXPERTS DECIDED
UPON VITAL STEP.Expert Entomologist Says Holy Water
Founts in Catholic Lands Breed
Mosquitoes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—An important step toward the prevention of contagious diseases was taken today when the members of the international sanitary convention accepted the forty-nine articles of the Paris convention of December 3, 1903, with only a few modifications required by the conditions in tropical countries. The articles, which are now engrossed in Spanish and English, will be signed by the delegates tomorrow morning and when ratified by the different South and North American governments there will be on practically all of the American continents one system of quarantine and preventive measures. This is calculated to put an end to the evil of good work in one state being undone by negligent methods in a neighboring state.

Dr. C. O. Howard, the entomologist of the department of agriculture, who has made a special study of the mosquito, read a paper on the subject. In regard to the distance the mosquito is able to fly out on the sea (a question of great importance when determining how far ships under quarantine shall stay away from shore) he stated that it has been found impossible for mosquitoes to move out as far as 500 feet.

"Holy water founts in churches are often the breeding place for the yellow fever mosquitoes," declared Dr. Howard. "Very little attention, he said, has been paid to the holy water founts in the churches, which would breed out mosquitoes which would kill easy victims among the people who had gone to church. In many countries,

CAPTAIN TAGGART
GRANTED DIVORCECourt Awarded Him Custody
of the ChildrenCHARGES AGAINST HIM WERE NOT SUSTAINED.

Mrs. Taggart's Cross Petition Was Denied—She Will Be Allowed to See Children.

WOOSTER, O., Oct. 13.—Judge Eason, who heard the divorce case of Captain Elmore F. Taggart, rendered his decision this afternoon. The court grants Captain Taggart the divorce and the custody of the two children, Culver, aged 11, and Charles, aged 7. Although Mrs. Taggart is denied possession of the children she will be permitted to see them. Captain Taggart was in court during the reading of the decision. Mrs. Taggart is ill and was not present. The court room was crowded with an eagerly expectant throng of people.

Judge Eason, before giving his decision, reviewed the case in cross-petitions, answers and affidavits. In the course of his statement Judge Eason said the testimony was deeply touching. The charges of drunkenness against Captain Taggart, the court said, were not sustained.

The trial lasted several weeks. The case went to the court in July, 1904, by Captain Taggart, who filed a petition for divorce, charging his wife with conduct unbecoming a wife and alleging the excessive use of intoxicants. Mrs. Taggart heard of the proceedings in San Francisco several weeks later and immediately started for Wooster, the home of her mother, where she filed a counter-petition for divorce on the grounds of cruelty and neglect. The case has been of exceptional interest because of statements during the trial by Captain Taggart that the use of intoxicants in the army was so common as to be almost the custom.

A number of prominent army officers were named on Captain Taggart's petition as having been more or less the cause of domestic troubles between Captain and Mrs. Taggart.

Captain Taggart is a well known army officer. He is a graduate of West Point and has served at various posts and in various capacities. He was military officer of a division in the Cuban campaign, aided in the relief of the Cubans, served with distinction in the Philippines and especially in Samar, was chief of police of Manila and commanded the hospital ship Relief and the transport Sherman.

Culver, the oldest child of Captain and Mrs. Taggart, declared to his mother tonight that he would rather remain with her. This afternoon, before the decision of the court was announced, the child went to his mother and said: "Mama, I don't have to leave you, do I?"

The Taggart home is being watched tonight by a large number of people, who fear that the children might be kidnapped.

SOLSKY COMMISSION IS PREPARING PLANS FOR RUSSIAN CABINET

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 13.—The Solsky reform commission, appointed to arrange measures for the elections to the national assembly, has finished its labors. The commission is now engaged on the plan for the establishment of a ministerial cabinet.

A special conference to which all the high functionaries have been invited will meet next week. At this meeting the project will undergo final consideration before submission to the emperor. The project provides for a cabinet to be composed of all the ministers and heads of departments under a premier. The premier will be appointed by the emperor, with a seat in the council of the empire and of the state duma. He will be responsible to the emperor for the action of the cabinet and the ministers can report to his majesty only through him, with the exception of the ministers of war, of the navy and of foreign affairs, who will report directly in matters pertaining to defense of the state, but must inform the premier of the nature of their reports. The project does not call for the abolition of the present committee of ministers, which is to be retained for special ends.

Steinhilber had been ailing for some time but his friends in this city did not believe he contemplated self-destruction.

Pfeiffer is entirely unknown to any officer of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway company.

KILLED BY CHIMNEY IT'S UP TO FRESNO

UNKNOWN BOY IS CRUSHED UNDER BRICK.

Was Forty Feet Away From Its Base—
Is Almost Unrecognizable.

The body of a boy is at the morgue, as yet unidentified and crushed almost beyond recognition. The fall of a solitary chimney, forty feet high, between 1:30 and 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon was the cause of the lad's death.

The accident took place on the vacant lot near the corner of F and Kern streets, where a short time ago a number of frame buildings occupied by Japanese were burned. No one saw the boy struck, but a number observed the chimney fall. Pate Peterson, a negro who had been engaged in clearing away the rubbish among the cinders, was across Kern street, when he heard a pop like that of a pistol and turning quickly saw the chimney just before it reached the ground. Japanese also saw the tumble, and ran across, when it was seen, to their horror, that the top of the flue had struck down a human being.

The body was almost entirely covered with bricks, as the rotten brickwork had gone entirely to pieces throughout its entire length. Only one hand was visible, the arm thrown out as if in appeal. The head had been crushed flat, and was partly exposed.

The dead wagon was called, and the remains carefully gathered up and removed. It was seen that the dead had been a boy, apparently not more than fifteen and an Armenian. At the morgue the clothes were searched. The lad was dressed in a gray cap, blue shirt, overalls and shoes, and no coat. In the pockets there were a knife, pen, nickel watch, a number of large marbles, small mirror, comb and a number of small photographic prints. There is hardly an unbroken bone in his body.

All afternoon people went through the morgue trying to identify the remains, but as yet without result. A number of small boys said they recognized the child, but could give no name. One said he lived on E street, and was the son of an Armenian fruit peddler.

It is supposed that the boy had just gone on to the lot when he was struck, thinking to find something of value among the rubbish. His side was to the chimney, which was at least forty feet away and standing in the middle of the charred floor of the old Japanese drug store and about 100 feet away from the former Tilly gardens.

Last evening the remains at the morgue were identified as those of Harry Vartanian, a boy living with his people in Peters' addition, across the south limits of the city. He is the son of a Vartanian, a laborer, living at 161 South E street, and a nephew of Rev. Avalliss Vartanian, a retired minister of the Armenian church, who is one of the most prominent members of his race in this city.

BARTON ANNOUNCEMENTS.

"Sweet Clover" Tonight—"The Chaperons" Next Thursday.

"Sweet Clover," which will be seen at the Barton tonight, is one of those good, old-fashioned, wholesome plays which a man may attend with his family without fear of hearing or seeing anything that would offend. It is a beautiful story, geographically told and strange to say, there are no crimes or villains, and still the heart interest is intense. Abundant humor is interspersed as several of the characters are legitimately funny without being overdrawn. The play is credited with being one of those sweet compositions that linger in the memory of the lover of really good plays. It is surely just a bit refreshing to again witness a wholesome, well written play that does not insult the intellect, for after the maudlin, impossible melodrama, the rough knockabout farce comedy and vulgar burlesque, one turns instinctively to the better class of drama and is glad to find a play of this nature. There could be no happier title than "Sweet Clover," for in itself it almost tells the story of the play. Seats are on sale all day.

Fight as Seen by Camera.

Moving pictures come and go, and each successive season sees a new series of motion films, each advertised as better than anything that has preceded it. This assertion is, as a rule, quite correct, for the advance in moving photography has been rapid and each year sees finer films than any yet displayed. The climax, however, seems to have been reached in the Brit-Nelson fight pictures. These are by long odds the best, the cleanest, the clearest and the prettiest motion pictures yet taken. They lack nothing, and they have everything that could be required. Details are accurate, figures seem to verily move and breathe, and the clearness is perfect. These pictures surpass anything ever shown, and it is doubtful if, even under the most favorable circumstances, a better set of films will ever be obtained.

"The Chaperons."

A particularly bright and attractive musical entertainment will be given in this city when Isidore Winick's operatic-comedy success comes to the Barton next Thursday night, October 19th. "The Chaperons" is an entertainment of a light musical order, built on the lines of modern farce. The story of the piece is a whimsical one, dealing with a search for two seals—one of which has been lost from a will and the other from an aquarium. The scenes of the piece are laid in Paris and Alexandria, Egypt, and the characters range from a New York subway contractor, Adam Hegg, played by John Price, to a female sleuth, Phrosia, impersonated by Madelyn Marshall. The company from all accounts is a large one and contains on its roster several well known artists. "The Chaperons" has met with much success throughout the country, having been presented in every important city in the country, including New York, where at the New York theater it enjoyed a prosperous run of an entire season. Among others in the company are: Ruth Lloyd, and others. The chorus is unusually large, and is said to display more dash, vim and ginger than is often seen. The production, as regards scenery and costumes, is new in every particular and is said to be one of the most elaborate that has been given a musical piece in many years. "The Chaperons" has the latest New York success "The Whoo Damm Family." The sale of seats will open next Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

NEW HOME PLATE SHOULD BE PROPERLY DEDICATED.

Rumor That Lefty Hopkins Will Pitch For San Francisco—Laughlin to Umpire.

Fresno's mits will cabbage on to Fresno's bunts, fouls and flies tomorrow afternoon to a tune of right dope. That is what Fresno intends to do and if things of the past tell any tale Fresno ought to do as she says she will. The last game with San Francisco was a stunner for the boys from this burg and the score was 8 to 3. Tomorrow may be a repeat.

Manager Nelson has made a brand new home plate, solid wood with canvas cover. It is his purpose to have it in the ground ready for a dedication tomorrow and he has put it up to the home team to see that the home plate is given a proper padding. It will be "padded" your home plate and paddle it often.

That last game with the bay hitters was a surprising one. Fresno was solid with three runs in the fifth inning and Fresno had not yet pulled off her night cap. In the sixth the nightcap came off and twice round the bases the trip was made. Another run came in in the seventh and in the eighth the bell rang five times more. In the meantime the bay boys stood still and the score at the end of the game was 8 to 3. The local players do not expect to see many runs landed on either side this game, but it is believed that the quality of ball will be better and the score on both sides will not aggregate half what Fresno made in its last Fresno meet.

There is a rumor floating around that "Lefty" Hopkins is going to stand in the box for San Francisco tomorrow and twirl to his old team-mates. It will be remembered that Hopkins worked with the locals during most of the season, but he is now disconnected with the team here. Whether or not there is anything in the rumor can't be said definitely. Should Hopkins fail to pitch the chances are that O'Bannon will twirl for San Francisco.

Umpire Burleigh has planned a duck hunt for Sunday and he will have as substitute Laughlin, Fresno's former right fielder. Laughlin will give satisfaction.

NEW TRUSTEES FOR EQUITABLE LIFE ARE CHOSEN BY TRUSTEES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—John D. Kernan of Utica, N. Y., and William C. Redfield of Brooklyn were recommended for election to the board of directors of the Equitable Life Assurance society at a meeting of the trustees of that society today. Kernan is a member of the state railroad commission, and Redfield is a manufacturer. The selection in both cases were to fill vacancies.

The trustees also prepared a circular which they said will be sent to every policyholder, "inviting an expression of their wishes touching the selection of the persons to be voted for by the trustees for directors of the society at the annual meeting to be held on December 6th."

THE WONDER

CLOAK AND SUIT HOUSE.

A THRILLING STORY

IS THE HISTORY OF THE FRENCH REVOLUTION.

As It Is Being Delightfully Told by Professor Stephens—Second Lecture
Last Night.

Professor H. Morse Stephens in the second of his lectures on the French Revolution, given last night in the assembly room of the High School, carried the story from the first weeks of the States General, the parliament, to the invasion of Versailles by the women, and the mob of Paris and the return of the king and queen to Paris and their establishment at Tuileries. During the period of about six months covered by the lecture, three important events occurred—the death of the Tennis Court (June 20), the fall of the Bastille (July 14) and return of the king and queen to Paris, establishing the power and authority of the people (Oct. 5). Running through the discourse was a strong biographic thread, dealing with the early life and leadership of Mirabeau.

As will be recalled the preceding lecture ended at the election of a parliament, after 175 years. It will be remembered that by a coup of the clergy, known as the "Revolt of the Cures," the common people captured two of the three houses. The houses were those of the Nobility, the Clergy and the Third Estate, or common people. It was taken for granted that the higher dignitaries of the church would be chosen and thus the nobility would control two houses. But when the parish priests were elected instead, whose sympathies were with the common people, a new and unexpected situation confronted the nobility.

The first question that arose was how to vote. If the California legislature should not meet again for 175 years, one can imagine the confusion in organizing. The first question was whether the three houses should vote as one body, or as three separate bodies. The French government that summoned the legislature gave no assistance; but three voting places were provided. By this physical fact, the three houses met in different chambers. There were weeks of delay. Numerically the nobility had about 300 representatives, the clergy 300, and the Third Estate 600. As the Third Estate would have a clear majority on a vote, it wanted one assembly; the Third Estate pursued a policy of masterly inactivity. The clergy waited for the commons to act. In the six weeks of wait, the members of the Third Estate put in the time profitably getting acquainted. An English observer said they chattered all the time. When they resolved to organize the question was as what?

It was then that a leader arose—the first great hero of the revolution, the greatest statesman and one of the greatest political thinkers—Honore Gabriel Riquetti, Comte de Mirabeau. Professor Stephens can draw a man with excellent distinctness and a few bold strokes makes the picture. Mirabeau, never loved by but always respecting those about him, as a politician philosopher ranking with Aristotle and Machiavelli. But there was good reason why the lawyers, business men and physicians composing the Third Estate did not like him. It was his personality.

He came of an "excessive" family. Every member of the family had some characteristic in an excessive degree. His father was a writer of political economy who signed himself the "Friend of Men," but he and his son were never on terms of amity. Young Mirabeau was as a boy conspicuously disobedient, and as a youth a rake. He spent much of his time in prison. He ran away with a jailer's wife and usually was involved in some sort of scandal.

He then became a writer of political pamphlets—a newspaperman of the 18th century. He acquired the newspaperman's education—he learned the people. His visits to London, to The Hague and to Berlin, and the knowledge he gained of government were rapidly sketched. Returning he offered himself as a candidate of the nobility, but unsuccessfully. He was then elected to the Third Estate. This man—a great, big, swaggering, pock-faced, rufian, immediately dominated the Third Estate. At his suggestion the name of the National Assembly was adopted.

The situation was developing where something more than eloquence was required. Courage was needed. Mirabeau had it. When the recalcitrant commons were locked out of the assembly chamber, they went to a neighboring tennis court and there took an oath not to separate until they had given France a constitution. As soon as rebellion was declared the clergy, about 200, joined with the Third Estate. Troops were mobilized about Paris. Mirabeau made a great speech demanding the reason. Their Nocker was dismissed. That was taken to mean a strong reactionary government. "Two days after the dismissal," said Professor Stephens, "appeared that strange thing we call the People—with a capital P."

On July 14th the Bastille was taken, and French liberty was born. "I doubt," said the speaker, "if any single event in history has been more exaggerated. So momentous were the consequences that it has been assumed that the event itself must have been something wonderful."

Then followed a very cold-blooded description of the event. In the first place, it was pointed out that the Bastille was an old castle used as a state prison, since the Tower of London. Prisoners of means were well treated. At the time of the fall there were some fifteen prisoners, mostly political, largely pamphleteers. It was guarded by eighty-two old soldiers—invalids—augmented by thirty-two Swiss guards. It was also a repository for arms. There was no plan for taking the bastille. The crowd simply got excited, it raided the shops and did like things. The crowd wanted arms. The mob like all mobs was composed mostly of women and largely of a following of small boys. They entered the outer court, and somebody, somehow, gave the order to fire. The guards opened fire, killing eighty-three and wounding 13. Of course that aroused the frenzy of the people and the Bastille surrendered, rather than was taken.

The king immediately gave in and recalled Necker. Upon his visit to Paris three days later in response to popular clamor he appointed Lafayette commander-in-chief of the national guard. This was of great importance as a recognition of the people. Following the fall of the Bastille was the period of "great fear." Everybody was afraid of something, nobody knew just what. The cry of Brigands! caused a whole town to run away and hide. The interesting speeches in the national assembly were described, the hopelessness of overcoming the deficit, the childish measures proposed were all sketched entertainingly and vividly. A second attempt to dissolve the national assembly resulted in the assembling of troops about Versailles. This came to naught by a mob of women invading Versailles. Apparently it was a sort of female Coxey's army. The national guard followed. The palace was broken into and the proud king and queen marched to Paris and established at the Tuileries. Lafayette conveniently slept during the invasion of the palace, but appearing at the psychological moment promised to protect the royal family. At that moment he was the most powerful and important man in France. The next lecture will deal with Lafayette, commander-in-chief of the national guard of Paris.

SPLENDID SHOWING OF PHILIPPINES ROAD WILL ENCOURAGE BIDDERS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—According to the annual report for the year of 1904 of the Manila Railway company, owning the line connecting Manila and the south with Dagupan on the north, the road paid 15 per cent net profit. The total receipts were $1,475,069, and the expenditures $660,724, leaving a net profit of $815,345. The original cost of the road was $5,353,700. It is stated that by American methods of accounting the property would have paid almost 35 per cent on the investment. It is thought at the insular bureau that this showing may have an important influence on the bidding next month by American capitalists for the right to construct additional railways in the Philippines.

RUSSIAN SOLDIERS OCCUPIED VILLAGE ON ISLAND OF CRETE.

CANEA, Island of Crete, Oct. 13.—Russian soldiers,gendarmes and civil guards yesterday occupied the village of Armyo, in the Italian zone, and a fight with the insurgents ensued which lasted until tonight. The details have been censored, but local papers report that five of the insurgents were killed and eight wounded and that the Russian troops suffered no casualties.

HENRY IRVING.

The most striking aspect of the news of Sir Henry Irving's death in England last night is the instant importance given to that news throughout the world. Henry Irving was a great actor, perhaps the greatest of his time, but that greatness as an actor should be recognized as greatness worth while, in this age of business and machines, is an encouraging reminder that even gold and iron have not yet driven humanity and art out of the world. Henry Irving was more than an artist—he was a creator and a reformer; a man who was as much concerned in raising the standard of the drama, as an actor and an influence, in the English-speaking world, as he was in attaining personal success in that art. His life and his work were a propaganda of the worthiness of his art, as well as a triumph of skill in it. And his death is the loss, not merely of an actor, but of a powerful and important influence.

What is an actor. A mime; a mimic; a teacher of other men's passions; a mouthpiece of other men's words; a purveyor to the public amusement; a slave of the fickle public taste; a mountebank of a higher or lower sort. True. But he is also an artist, a sculptor, whose own body is his marble; a painter whose own face is his canvas; a musician without notes, an orator without a cause; an exponent of poetry, life and truth; a preacher of humanity. The stage, since the time of Aeschylus, has been the vehicle of the world's noblest literature, the mirror of the world's deepest life. All great art concentrates in itself the whole meaning of an age, but none so much so as dramatic art. The world's greatest writing has been done for the stage, and some of the world's greatest personal triumphs have been won on the stage. And across the footlights, human nature sees itself, stripped of the conventional disguises of life. This is the stage as an art and an influence. The stage is also a business; an institution for purveying to men what they will pay for—shallow fun, cheap sentiment, lurid melodrama; light and sparkle and twinkles; long rows of legs "mostly girls" that could not be so easily exposed elsewhere, salacious suggestions that could not conveniently be made elsewhere; and all that purveying to the libidinous imagination which has befouled the stage in all ages, and befores it now. [This is the stage as business. For "business is business" and if morbid suggestiveness is the most salable article on the market, it is the business of business to supply it.]

Between these two aspects of dramatic art there is a great gulf fixed. In the death of Henry Irving the world has lost the most powerful single influence for the re-establishment of the drama as an art. It has also lost a great artist; and the world of art is the only one in which an individual loss is irreparable, in which no man can do another man's work.

BAKER FIELD.

Every once in a while somebody stirs up a storm of newspaper indignation in Bakersfield by referring to that place as a "wide open" town. To judge from these newspaper defenders of their town against the aspersions of outsiders, life in Bakersfield is all one long Sunday school picnic. But, like Mother's charcoal burners, who turned indignantly on the outsider who ventured to interfere with their family pastime of wife-beating; but resumed the beating and the screaming as soon as both husband and wife had gathered against intrusion, these Bakersfield papers, talking to their own people, manifest quite a different spirit from the indignant virtue they show the outsiders. As for instance, yesterday's Echo "with all due respect to the opinions and judgment" of the trustees who have signed a permit to the dance-halls to disregard the midnight-closing ordinance, ventures timidly to suggest that it might be better to change the law, so as to give them the right to run all night. And still more timidly, it suggests that there might be justification for closing these halls entirely, and that if the dance-hall proprietors insist on running all night, law or no law, there may be aroused a sentiment, even in Bakersfield, to close their places. For, it is argued, it is unfair to the other saloon keepers (nobody's rights are sacred in Bakersfield but a saloonkeeper's) to permit the disorderly dance-halls to take their trade away from them, without paying more than the regular license.

These "dance-halls," of course, are simply disorderly houses of prostitution conducting public orgies to draw trade. They have such places at Goldfield, and they used to have them on the Klondike, until the Canadian government stopped them, but they have long since been exterminated in civilized communities. When the day of families, homes and children comes in, the day of frontier dance-halls passes away. Everybody knows this, including the decent people who constitute the overwhelming majority of the people of Bakersfield. But the politicians who "do things" in Bakersfield have not risen to the courage to represent its decency, in this matter, and the newspapers of Bakersfield have never resolutely set to work to shame their city into decency. Whenever either of the Bakersfield papers makes up its mind that these public orgies shall stop, and that, regardless of consequences to the newspaper, life shall be made extremely uncomfortable to the protectors of such places, then these things will stop. And until they do stop, touchy sensitiveness about the epithet "wide open town," applied to Bakersfield, is not in order.

"KNOCKING."

Colvin B. Brown, secretary of the San Joaquin Valley Commercial Association, has written to the California Promotion Committee calling attention to a letter sent out by a San Francisco real estate firm, in which an intending settler was warned against settling in the interior valley. The letter had contained these extraordinary statements:

"We would strongly advise you to avoid the great interior valleys which extend from Kern county to Shasta county."

"We have seen over and over again men broken in health from long residence in these irrigation districts seeking the coast counties of Central California to recuperate."

"Why go into these great interior valleys of Sacramento, San Joaquin, Fresno, etc., where malaria is rampant and the heat so excessive that at times even the horses drop dead in the fields."

Naturally the promotion committee will see to it that the harm intended by this particular letter is counteracted. But there ought to be a unanimous sentiment in California against this species of knocking, especially as applied to the great interior valley. If the interior valley of California is not worth while, then California is not worth while. This valley, in total area, and in arable land, constitutes nearly all there is of agricultural California, besides being the only outlet to the mountains which contain all the lumbering and mineral resources of California. This valley, in fact, is California. The rest is overflow. And to "knock" this valley, especially to lie about it, is to knock and lie about California.

From Valley Papers

Fresno is fast gaining the distinction of being the dark and bloody ground of the state, wilder and more woolly than the mining towns of Montana or the frontier burgs along the Texas-Mexican line. Every day Fresno citizens carry "gun" in his hip pocket and uses it on the slightest provocation. The papers published in that town, when they have not a fresh murder to chronicle, lure writing up inequities and the history of trials in court for homicide. Since the 28th of last June there have been no less than six murders committed in the city of Fresno beside a number of killings in the county at large, and a number of other attempts to kill. It is a record of blood not equalled elsewhere in California. Apparently the people in the rain belt have little regard for law and order and hold life so cheaply that the ready six-shooter is popping on every corner with or without provocation. Fresno may have an ordinance against carrying concealed weapons, but if it has, it is quite evident that nobody pretends to obey it and no officer tries to enforce it. It is a deplorable condition of affairs and it reflects little credit on the rain city and less upon the authorities.—Bakersfield Californian.

The license belonging to attorneys in the courtroom, particularly for their arguments before juries, is from time to time subject to grave abuse. The unclean effusions of yellow journals are temperate in comparison to the foul and despicable statements that are sometimes made by lawyers under the protecting exemption accorded them in the sacred precincts of the courtroom. If the newspapers make such irresponsible statements, or such cruel and unfounded accusations as are indulged by some cowardly lawyers, they would be prosecuted in the criminal courts, and hounded in the civil tribunals, and rightly.—Stockton Record.

Fresno has had seven homicides since the 28th of last June. That is quite a record for a small city like Fresno, such would use the palmist days of Senator Chandler. Earl B. Terry and other gun-packers who marched with Grady and his pals look like about fifteen coppers. Hanford Sentinel.

Another instance of how a man will abuse a privilege or a trust, developed in Merced the other day. A man dropped into that city wearing a Woodman's badge. He was sick and broke into the members of the Merced lodge raised him a nice little purse with which to get back to his home in San Francisco. The chopper decided he should patronize home industry and instead of turning the money into the coffers of the railroad company he spent it for a good-sized jag and was landed behind the bars. He is now considering how hard is the work the transgressor.—Porterville Messenger.

ROYAL WEDDING
IN QUAINT VILLAGEPRINCESS VICTORIA ADELHEID
AND PRINCE CHARLES EDWARD.German Imperial family Was Present.
Except the Crown Prince, Which Creates Surprise.

CHECKSBURG, Prussia, Oct. 11.—The Princess Victoria Adelheid, eldest daughter of Duke Frederick of Schleswig-Holstein-Sonderburg-Glücksburg, and niece of Empress Augusta Victoria, was married to Prince Charles Edward, duke of Saxe-Gotha and Gotha, a nephew of King Edward, at mid-day today in the beautiful little castle here in the presence of about fifty members of the royal families in Germany. Among them were the emperor and empress and all the imperial children, except the crown prince, Frederick Wilhelm. Here and Prince Eitel Frederick are the young duke's intimate friends and no one seems to know precisely why the crown prince was absent.

The castle was altogether too small to accommodate half the number of guests, so they came in automobiles or carriages from country places in the neighborhood. The imperial party stayed overnight in the imperial yacht Helwig. The civil ceremony took place in the white hall of the castle. There as many of the royal guests and their suites as could be given place went to the little chapel upstairs, where the religious rite was performed.

A school and business holiday is being observed throughout this miniature state and crowds of the bride's and groom's subjects gathered here gave them an enthusiastic welcome when they appeared together on the balcony of the castle.

BANKERS CHOSE
THEIR OFFICERSCONVENTION ENDED ITS WORK
AND ADJOURNED.More Views Were Expressed Regarding Matters Affecting the Commerce
Of the Nation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—John L. Hamilton was elected president of the American Bankers' association and members of the executive council for a term of three years were selected as follows: George M. Reynolds, Chicago; Milton E. Miles, Washington, D. C.; J. L. Edwards, Burlington, Ia.; H. B. Wilcox, Baltimore; J. J. Sullivan, Cleveland.

The following five additional members of the executive council were elected, having been nominated by the vice-presidents of states: Joseph Chapman, Jr., Minneapolis; A. G. Lippman, Hartford; City, Ia.; H. P. Miller, St. Louis; L. A. Peirson, New York city; and J. G. Brown, Raleigh, N. C.

Among the vice-presidents elected for the different states were: Arizona, P. P. Green, Clifton; California, E. Bowles, San Francisco.

Harvey D. Gouder, president of the Merchant Marine League in his address on "Our Commerce," said:

"Humbling as it is to our national pride, this country has not only to admit that, following consistently a system of protection in trade, it has neglected the shipping industry which should have prospered with the rest of our interests and has been prevented by the discrimination, however induced, but that this has been done against the example of free trade nations who uniformly have selected the shipping interests for reasons of far-reaching importance as the only single interest to be maintained and encouraged at any proper cost by the country that can have a merchant marine and would keep its place in the world."

"From the general experience it may be taken that a foreign merchant marine is an essential element in the rounding out of the affairs of a nation which has a sea coast and the possibilities of foreign trade. I lay aside the political question of disturbing thirty-two working commercial treaties and ask you gentlemen when you go to bed tonight, if you are not a discriminating dutie as a purely business problem and see if with no duties on exports, with 90 per cent of our goods coming in free from South and Central America, half of our goods from all over the world coming in free, with the duties laid precisely the same, regardless of the distance travelled by the ship, how a system of discriminating duties could be devised that would be workable."

"The price of a single battleship for the navy would more than meet the expense of a thorough experiment in the rehabilitation of our foreign merchant marine, and compared with the expense which we are now approving in connection with the Philippines, for our navy and army and establishments and in the building of the world canal, the cost of a thorough experiment might be defined as a drop in the bucket."

A discussion of the practical banking question was opened by C. P. Ellis of Erie, Pa., who advocated a system of insurance for national bank deposits. He said an annual assessment of $100 paid by national banks would have paid all losses to depositors from bank failures in the last five years, besides leaving a surplus of $2,000,000, and that an annual assessment of $225 for the last forty years would have paid all such losses during that period. Ellis said the fact must be recognized that there is an underlying current of mistrust of banks pervading every community. This is augmented by the weekly report of bank failures. Ellis indicated that the best way was to have the government supervise insurance.

President Robinson of the First National bank of Winfield, Kansas, believed that a strict observance of the national bank act would obviate many failures. He hinted that in many instances loans were made in excess of legal restrictions.

The discussion ended without action by the convention.

YOUNG KING OF SPAIN
WILL VISIT GERMANY
ON MATRIMONIAL PLAN

MADRID, Oct. 11.—The palace authorities have been ordered to prepare for the departure of King Alfonso to remain in Berlin from November 6 to November 12, attending elaborate festivities, a military review and a hunt. The premier, General Montero Rios, probably will accompany the king, whose departure for Germany immediately following President Loubet's visit to Madrid attracts comment, since the premier's accompanying his majesty indicates that questions of state will be considered in Germany. However, the king's visit to Germany was arranged long ago and is generally believed to be connected with the matrimonial projects of the Spanish royal family.

JEROME SCORNE
BY REPUBLICANSRECEIVED ONLY NINE VOTES IN CONVENTION.He Regards His Rejection By All District
Leaders as Strong
Endorsement.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The Republican convention to select candidates for the various offices in the borough of Manhattan and New York county were held tonight. Before the conventions met, the executive committee of the county committee discussed for two hours the question whether or not the county convention would endorse District Attorney Jerome. Although there is no official relations between the borough and county conventions they are substantially the same and until the leaders who made up the executive committee could settle the Jerome question, both conventions were blocked.

Of the thirty-seven members of the executive committee a dozen were in favor of Jerome and insisted that he should be recommended for the office he now holds. The balance of the committee was bitterly opposed to his candidacy. As no satisfactory arrangement could be arrived a message was sent to William M. Ivins, the nominee for mayor, inviting him to appear before the committee and express his views.

Ivins made a long speech in favor of Jerome, saying he was very anxious for the selection of Jerome as his running mate in the campaign. It would afford him great personal gratification, he said, but even so, he added, he did not wish the members to feel that his personal feelings should rule and he would be willing to abide by their vote. Several other members spoke in favor of Jerome. Among these was Chairman Halpin, who urged that Jerome should be selected. A vote was then taken on the proposition and it resulted in twenty-seven to eight, against Jerome's nomination.

In the call for nominations in the county convention for district attorney, Charles A. Plummer was placed in nomination by Abraham Gruber. The mention as a candidate of William Travers Jerome by R. K. Prentice set the convention in an uproar but when the roll was called, Jerome received only nine votes against 237 for Plummer. As the convention was about to adjourn, the candidate for mayor, arrived and was received with enthusiasm. During his address Ivins said, speaking of the question of municipal ownership:

"I believe that every franchise that has lapsed should at once be acquired by the city. I believe that every franchise that has been forfeited should be at once put out of the way of acquisition by the most relentless pursuit of the parties who acquire that franchise unrighteously. I believe that there should be no new grants of franchises in perpetuity whatever."

"I believe that all the wealth created by our community should be held in perpetuity by the community, for the use and benefit of our community and not for the aggrandizement of large sums of money by individuals."

Jerome said when told of the result of the convention:

"It has not happened in my memory that a man has been so honored by rejection, such an endorsement as to be unanimously opposed by the district leaders of all parties in this city."

ABNER MCKINLEY'S WIDOW
WAS PRIVATELY MARRIED TO FLORIDA CAPTAIN.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Annie McKinley, widow of the late Abner McKinley, was married here very privately on Monday last to Captain John D. Allen of Tampa, Fla. So quietly was the ceremony performed that tonight it is impossible to learn either where it took place or who the officiating minister was. On Sunday Mrs. McKinley and Miss Anna Belden of New York registered at a hotel here, as did Captain Allen and Spencer C. Weeks, of Brooklyn. The marriage license was issued on Monday, Weeks being the applicant. It authorized the marriage of John D. Allen, widower, 55, of Tampa, Fla., and Annie E. McKinley, widow, 49, of New York. Immediately after the ceremony the bride party left the hotel and are now, it is said, in Virginia, where Mr. and Mrs. Allen will spend their honeymoon.

DAN PATCH DID
THE SAME AGAINUNPACED MILE IN EQUAL TO STAR
POINTNER'S TIME.Stiff Breeze Against Him in Third Quarter
Weakened the Game
Thoroughbred.

LEXINGTON, Oct. 13.—Star Pointer continues to hold the world's championship for a paced mile in harness. In a trial to lower it today, Dan Patch equalled it for the second time. In view of a stiff breeze the pacer had to face through the third quarter, the popular belief was that he could beat 1:59 1/4, and that he equalled it was regarded as a great performance.

Hersey was behind Dan Patch and Scott Hudson drove the runner which accompanied him alongside. Star Pointer was driven on the track and after an ovation from the crowd viewed Patch's trial from the head of the stretch.

The quarter was made in thirty seconds flat and the half in fifty-nine seconds. For the next quarter the horse had to contend with the wind. It did not affect his speed appreciably, as the three-quarters was reached in 1:28 1/4, but it told on his strength. At the head of the stretch a second runner was picked up and Dan Patch came home between them. He showed that he was tired. Hersey, who drove him a mile Saturday, October 7th, behind a pace maker and dirt shield in 1:53 1/4, without touching him, today whipped vigorously through the last eighth. Urging was to no avail.

The crowd was not disappointed as he was paraded with a floral wreath about his neck there was a great demonstration.

UNITARIAN DELEGATES
REFUSED ADMISSION TO CHURCH FEDERATION.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The officials of the Church Federation, which is planning to hold meetings in this city next month, it was learned today, have decided to exclude all members of the Unitarian faith. Among the duly elected delegates were Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale, chaplain of the United States senate; John D. Long, secretary of the navy, and Rev. Dr. Samuel A. Elliott, president of the American Unitarian association. The committee in charge has declined to admit them as delegates.

This is a national federation of churches, aiming to bring Christian bodies into active support of measures on which all agree. It has been at work for two years on the meeting and has succeeded in getting the official bodies of over 200 denominations to name delegates to attend. The Unitarians supposed they were invited and named delegates. The action barring them out, it is said, brings Unitarians and Trinitarians into clash on a larger scale than ever before.

SHE IS THE STAR

MAGNETIC PERSONALITY OF ETHEL BARRYMORE MAKES HER SO.

The English Actress Makes Western People Proud They Are From The West.

"All things come to him who waits." Fresno theater lovers have waited for Ethel Barrymore long and patiently and last night their waiting was rewarded. She appeared in her latest triumph, "Sunday," and the magnetic force of her personality and wonderful acting crossed the footlights and held her audience at her feet from her first appearance in the little red calico gown of the mining camp child until the fall of the curtain upon the splendid woman entering into her new found happiness.

A word first about the play—it is not intellectual and never posed as such but it is full of that soul-stirring quality, heart interest, which finds a responsive chord in almost every nature. It is not the play in much that is remembered as it is the way Miss Barrymore lived the part of Sunday. "Living the part"—no other words express it. It makes one's Western blood tingle with just pride to hear this girl—of English birth—who has plighted her troth to an Englishman and who is English through and through pay the tribute to the western country when she says "You people in England have the manners and the wealth and the culture and all that, but these boys I am going to have heart—a heart as big as the country they live in." A play like "Sunday" makes people realize they have hearts and wish that the true, big, honest spirit of the mining camp with its rude surroundings and rude men might be found everywhere instead of "in spots."

One rather unusual thing about "Sunday" is that instead of letting the bad, wicked villain live and spoil every act he is neatly disposed of in the first with Jackie as the man behind the gun.

The love sentiment is delightful and Miss Barrymore in an emotional role is simply captivating, although one sees in the occasional bits of comedy a very attractive side of this versatile young actress.

Miss Barrymore appeared in Fresno some eight years ago with John Drew and Maud Adams in "Christopher, Jr." and since then she has attained "stardom"—despite the fact that some critics say she is too miniature to be a star. That depends on what one wants in a star. That she was the star last night of her company, of the mining camp and of the life of her future lord and master was sufficient to convince one that she was the star.

Her accent at the beginning of the play was perhaps a bit difficult to listen to, but as she grew accustomed to it the spell of her fascinating star and drawl deepened and left its impression of individuality. Like her uncle John Drew she expresses more in an attitude, a gesture, a facial expression than could be told in words.

The scenes in the second and third acts were lovely and formed a fit setting for the exquisite costumes of Miss Barrymore and Virginia Buchanan who was a capital Mrs. Neaseby, the typical English grande dame.

The support was everything that could be asked for. Bruce McRae, the Colonel Brimlance of the play, was the ideal lover and a particularly handsome one, too. His acting was finished. The mining camp quiet, furnished some of the best scenes in the play. Every one was excellent and there was a pretty little scene toward the end between (John Barrymore) and Sunday. John Barrymore, too, has the unmistakable Barrymore "naturalness" and is a clever actor.

Good news learned by the actress after the play was the death of Sir Henry Irving in whose company Miss Barrymore played.

Theater goers were very fortunate in having Miss Barrymore come to Fresno and through the kindness of Manager Barton, who arranged for a special train to take the company south so that the play should not be cut last night's splendid performance was possible.

BOYS ARE FALLING IN.

Company C is Growing Rapidly—Sixty is the Mark.

Company C is growing and it intends to keep up the good work. At the present time there are forty-seven men in the company and an endeavor to increase the number to sixty, one of the main objects of the company.

It is quite a feat for the company to be made so that the winter's drill will hit all alike. Last night Pen Stone was sworn into the company, Frank Normant and Henry Saunders were elected to membership and the application of Lester Grider for membership was presented.

A new recruiting committee was appointed. It consists of Lieutenant Neel, Sergeant Tubbs and Private Raymond Fair. They then examine the credentials of applicants.

The first company dance of the season will come off Friday night. Last night invitations were extended to General Muller and his staff, Major Jones and his staff, to Company F and the Spanish-American War veterans, to attend the dance in uniform. One of the features of the evening's entertainment will be a pyramid twenty feet high. Twenty-two men will be used in its formation. Other pyramid work will be exhibited.

The members of the company will go to the river Sunday for target practice. Last night a good number of the boys took part in drills. Several visitors were present and a number of entertaining talks were made. Lawrence, the bugler who is at the Novelty Grand theater this week, blew a number of single calls for the entertainment of the men.

FINDS PROFIT IN BEING DUMB.

But the Defect is Intermittent in Frank Adams' Case.

Last evening Officer O. M. Akers arrested two worthies, Frank Adams and Mike Larkin. Larkin is a one-armed man who had a short time before and left the county jail upon completion of a short term.

Frank Adams recently arrived in town, and representing himself as deaf and dumb, began to beguile the coin from the tender hearted.

Last evening some of the officers overheard Adams telling his troubles to Larkin. A little later both men were ragged, but Adams had again strangely become dumb. The defect is supposed to be intermittent in his case.

Along with the greater offenders and cases that have come to town lately upon their tour of the Pacific coast, have arrived a band of petty characters that are giving the police and other citizens trouble. Among these are a number of professional beggars of one kind or another. Several of these have been arrested and charged with vagrancy lately.

SELMA HAPPENINGS.Pentecostal Camp Meetings Commence in Big Tent.

SELMA, Oct. 12.—The Pentecostal camp meeting opens this evening in a big tent at the corner of Second and Sylvia streets. Evangelist L. H. Baker will be in charge, assisted by E. W. Wheeler and wife, well known singers. There will be three meetings daily with all-day Sunday services.

J. J. Roadhouse came in today from Berkeley, to look after his ranch here for a few days.

O. B. Kimberlin of Hills valley, a prominent wheat grower, was in town on business today.

R. L. Maltby returned to Selma this morning to accept a position.

Robert Watkins left this evening for Mississippi to join his wife, who has been visiting in the southland for several months. Both will return to Selma after a sojourn at Watkins' old home.

I. M. Steward came home yesterday from Lockford, Cal., where he had visited since last April.

John P. Clark was in town this morning on business. He shook hands with old acquaintances.

Nick Maltry, Oscar Dewitt and J. W. Bates returned Wednesday evening from a hunting trip in the vicinity of Trimmer Springs.

Rev. Stewart will preach upon the following themes at the Christian church Sunday: Morning, "The Need of the Church in This Age"; Evening, "The Unpardonable Sin."

Mrs. Dr. A. R. Steinwand is dangerously ill at her home on East Front street.

C. H. Van Horn returned this morning from a visit of two days at the Hanford fair. He was interested particularly in the livestock exhibit and pronounced it very good.

The manufacturer

does not today ask: "Shall I advertise or not?" any more than he asks: "Shall I employ power to run my factory?"

Instead he asks: "What form of advertising salesmanship shall I use?" just as he asks "What form of power will run my factory best at the least cost?"

He must have power, whether as a motive to run his plant or as a motive to sell his goods. There is as much difference in advertising mediums as there is in motive power.

The greatest promise for the future of advertising is found in the fact that the manufacturer is today becoming as keenly discriminating in purchasing space in mediums as he has been for years in the other branches of his business. That is why more manufacturers are to-day considering THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL than are considering any other one publication in the world.

TRADE REPORTS BEAT RECORDS

IN EVERY LINE OF ACTIVITY THE SAME PROSPERITY.

First Indications of Holiday Trade Add to the Big Volume of Business.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Dun's Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say: Recent mild weather might have been expected to retard business but freight blockades and several similar conditions testify to the contrary and the last half of the week brought a seasonable fall in temperature. Higher rates for money tend to prevent excess in Wall street, yet there is no difficulty in securing funds for mercantile undertakings.

At some cities fall trade has become more quiet, first necessities being needed, but supplementary orders are confidently anticipated. The first interest in holiday trade is noted, and this element promises to supply unprecedented business this year. Manufacturers are so fully occupied that contracts for delivery cannot be considered in most cases and the amount of business that will be carried over into 1906 will certainly eclipse all records.

These sanguine prospects are confidently announced in several of the leading business latest news from the furnaces and steel mills being notably gratifying. Crops were not seriously injured by the frost and such a small percentage of the year's yield still remains exposed to danger that agricultural results may be summed up as most favorable. It is to be hoped that large crops will restore liberal exports, which have made very poor comparisons of late, for the last week at this port alone a decrease of $2,877,145 being noted in comparison with the same week last year, while imports gained $2,094,185.

Railway earnings thus far reported for October gained only .02 per cent over last year's movement, but prices of securities were but little influenced by bankers' addresses urging conservatism.

Demand for hides is fully sustained, prices rising still further on some varieties, but packers are sold up well into November and more remote purchases are not made because of uncertainty regarding quality. Several pronounced advances are noted in foreign dry hides.

Failures this week numbered 214 in the United States compared with 208 a year ago and 25 in Canada against 24 last year.

BESSIE BOYNTON'S SISTER SAYS BERTIE CURTIS IS MISSING FRANKLIN.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 13.—Mrs. E. E. Nelson of this city, a sister of Bessie Boynton of Colorado Springs, today identified the telegraphed description of the man known as Curtis, wanted at Berkeley for the robbery and attempted murder of William Ellis, as Milton Franklin, the alleged murderer of Bessie Boynton on Outlook mountain near Colorado Springs. Mrs. Nelson is positive the Oakland suspect is in reality none other than Franklin, and announces her willingness to go personally to make an identification, if the man is captured. "Every feature of the telegraphed description," said she, "tallies exactly with Franklin. I am certain it is he."

BERKELEY, Oct. 13.—City Marshal Volmer is going through a trunk left behind by Curtis, found tonight a Denver newspaper dated October 2, 1904, containing an account of the mysterious disappearance of Julia Ward. Marshal Volmer says he is in possession of clues which he thinks will soon lead to the apprehension of Curtis.

Damages for Injuries.
OAKLAND, Oct. 13.—Claude L. Asseline was given damages amounting to $10,000 by the jury in the suit he brought against the People's Express company of this city for injuries he received last spring in a collision with a street car and a wagon of the company on the Webster street bridge. The amount sued for was $20,000.

Lehigh Valley Road's Purchase.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.—The board of directors of the Lehigh Valley Railroad company today authorized the purchase of the entire capital of Cosque, Inc., the Delaware, Susquehanna and Schuylkill railroad and allied water companies and other water companies, together with all collaterals and properties.

CORK, Ireland, Oct. 13.—John Daly, a prominent Irish politician, who represented Cork in the house of commons when Charles Stuart Parnell was leader of the nationalist party, died tonight.

COTTON LEAK SWINDLERS SURRENDERED THEMSELVES ON NEW INDICTMENTS

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Frederick A. Peckham and Moses Haas, indicted in Washington in connection with the cotton leak scandal, today surrendered to the United States marshal here. They were arraigned before United States Commissioner Ridgeway and bail was fixed at $10,000 each, which was furnished. The new indictment on which they were arraigned today was also against Edwin S. Holmes and L. C. Van Riper, charging all four collectively with having conspired to defraud by procuring advance information from Holmes concerning the government's crop report. The hearing on that motion was adjourned until October 21.

WRECK OF ALAMEDA WAS APPARENTLY DUE TO LACK OF SIGNALS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—The investigation into the recent accident of the steamer Alameda was resumed today. The gist of this morning's investigation emphasized the principal contention made by the officers of the Alameda. This is, that the fog signals at Lime Point and at Fort Point were not sounding on the memorable morning of September 30, when the Alameda struck the rocks, although the Alameda was blowing her own whistles out into the misty haze and should, accordingly to all standard and precedent, have been answered by fog signals warning her of the reefs.

Stubs Said to Have Been Seized by Government Agents to His Damage.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Charges of dishonesty against government officials connected with the investigation of Captain O. M. Carter's affairs as a government engineer were made today by Attorney Stone, counsel for Captain Carter.

Attorney Edwin, for the government, had asked Captain Carter to produce certain check stubs. Thereupon attorney Stone declared the stubs had been seized by the government some time ago and everything favorable to Carter's case was destroyed while the unfavorable documentary evidence was saved.

"We did not get the stub book in question," said Attorney Edwin, "and Captain Carter is known to have received it from R. F. Westcott, his father-in-law, so Captain Carter must produce it."

"The stub book," answered Attorney Stone, "were in a box which was seized and we want you to produce it."

"We intend to show that they were in Carter's possession after the box was seized," said Attorney Edwin, "and he must produce the documents."

Carter was then asked concerning a contract which bore his signature and that of his father-in-law, showing that Carter had paid $68,929 on certain property in Orange, N. J. Carter declared that he signed the document believing it merely meant the leasing of $61,000 worth of property to him by his father-in-law as a present.

VENEZUELA MAY BE BLOCKADED

FRANCE HAS OUR CONSENT TO GO TO EXTREMES.

Our Differences With Castro Are Such,
However, as May Be Easily
Settled.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—American grievances against Venezuela may be settled by nothing more than the absence of any diplomatic relations at Caracas, may yet be compelled to resort to a show of force. Despite the assurance of foreign office officials at Paris, it is said here that the French ultimatum has been practically read to dispatch for a week or more and that France has the full assent of the Washington government to adopt an effective course against Venezuela to effect the renewal of diplomatic relations and the restoration of French property seized by the Caracas government.

This briefly, is the situation tonight. The French ultimatum will be held up until further conferences have occurred between the French embassy here and the state department. So far as Judge Calhoun, the American special commissioner, has reported to the department there is nothing in the situation at Caracas that cannot be settled by patient and firm diplomacy. American and French property, it is contended, has been seized unjustly by President Castro, but ample precedent is found in history for the settlement without resort to force of problems far more complicated than the present issue.

While not prepared to announce definitely to exact course of action, the Washington government has let France know informally its belief that American grievances against Venezuela, although complicated, can be settled without the assistance of American warships. This information was not communicated with any intention of forestalling a resort by France to force, but was in answer to the earnest request of the Paris government. Public opinion in France is rapidly becoming exhausted over the delay of the government in proceeding against Venezuela and this fact necessarily acts as a spur in the conference between Paris and Washington. This government will give France every possible assistance toward a diplomatic adjustment.

A thorough understanding exists between Paris and Washington on the subject and even if France shall find it necessary to establish a Pacific blockade against Venezuela, the Washington government will offer no objection, having already assured itself that the Monroe doctrine is not involved in any way. In diplomatic circles the opinion is expressed that the Venezuelan president would yield before the Pacific blockade is established. The aversion on the part of France and the United States to the use of warships in this case arises from the fact that the blockading of Venezuelan ports at this time will affect, not so much Venezuela, as it will the creditor powers to whom a portion of the customs receipts has been awarded by the Hague tribunal until their claims have been paid in full.

MAXIM GORKY REGRETS TROUBETSKOY'S DEATH BUT BELITTLES HIM.

MOSCOW, Oct. 13.—Voicing the sentiments of the extreme wing of the Russian reformers, Maxim Gorky today expressed sincere sorrow at the death of Prince Troubetzkoy, as a man and a Russian, but declared that Russia had nothing to hope from the reported activities of such men as Prince Troubetzkoy. He added: "I regret the death of Prince Troubetzkoy as a frank, just and honest man, not as a representative of the liberal party, which cannot ever effect reforms in Russia. The ancestors of Troubetzkoy, Galtzin and Golovin, went hand-in-hand with imperialism. The fault is still in the blood. They are incapable of realizing their splendid opportunities to know and further the needs of the people. The revolution will come soon, like an avalanche, when least expected. The disorders at Moscow will perhaps cease temporarily but will be resumed in a month or two with renewed force." The case against Gorky has not been heard, but proceedings to be dropped. He will be forced to the government to bring him to trial.

Paris, Oct. 13.—Official quarters here show growing impatience at President Castro's failure thus far to withdraw his offensive action toward Taigny, the French charge d'affaires at Caracas.

Although no definite determination has been reached, intimations are made that the situation may not permit of indefinite delay as President Castro's inaction, amounting to a refusal to withdraw his offensive action, may lead France to make a demonstration in Venezuelan waters. The cruiser has just completed speed trials, showing that she can steam eighteen knots.

The foreign office later gave out a categorical denial of the report that the cruiser Chasseloup Laubat is preparing to join a naval division going to Venezuela. The officials say that no decision whatever has been reached concerning the measures to be taken against Venezuela. These are awaiting the result of Ambassador Jusserand's conferences with the authorities at Washington.

FAST MAIL TRAIN WAS RUNNING AWAY WITH ENGINEER HELPLESS

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—In a wild dash an Illinois Central fast mail train that left for the south at 2:30 a. m. today narrowly escaped wreck and destruction at Grand Crossing. The engineer, Frank A. Rugg, was struck by some projection after passing Sixty-third street and fell unconscious at his post. Not until the destruction of the train was imminent was his condition discovered and the wild flight of the fast mail brought to an end by Rugg's fireman. Tearing through darkness, the train approached a net work of tracks at Grand Crossing with undiminished speed. Then Paul A. Wheeler, the fireman found the engineer unconscious and bleeding from a jagged wound in his head, and brought the train to a stop at the verge of the danger point. Rugg's head had struck some object while he was peering from the cab window.

DORSEY-ROBINSON COMPANY

BERKELEY THUG

IS IDENTIFIED

AS THE MAN WHO MURDERED
BESSIE BOUTON.

Police Allege that Curtis is No Other
Than the Much Wanted
Andrews.

BERKELEY, Oct. 13.—The man known as William Brush, or Curtis, who with a woman companion, robbed and attempted to murder William Ellis, the Australian sporting man, in this city on Wednesday, has been identified by the police as a notorious criminal for whom a reward of $2000 is outstanding. The man who is none other than Milton Franklin Andrews, the dead who murdered Bessie Bouton on Mount Cutler, Cal., on October 5, 1904.

The minute descriptions furnished by Ellis of his brutal assailant tally exactly with those sent broadcast over the country of the man who perpetrated the notorious crime which shocked a continent. Andrews, who is a fugitive from justice, traveled under the aliases of George Bennett and Milton Franklin, and it now appears that he has added the names of Brush and Curtis to his list.

Not only does Brush fit the descriptions of Andrews, but the preparations for the dismemberment of Ellis strongly recall the details of the tragedy in Colorado. Bessie Bouton's body was hacked to pieces and acid had been used to render the work of identification more difficult.

The detectives say that the identification is so positive as to admit of no doubt. No clue to the whereabouts of Brush and his female accomplice has yet been found.

The Bouton murder created a sensation throughout the country. Miss Bouton belonged to a prominent family of Nevada and Colorado. With her relatives and friends she was visiting Colorado Springs, where she met Andrews. He gained her confidence, and it is believed that she went for a walk with him to the summit of Mount Cutler just before she mysteriously disappeared on October 5th of last year. After a long search her body was found in the bushes on that mountain. Some valuable jewelry which she wore was missing. Andrews disappeared, and the Colorado authorities finding that he had a criminal record, offered a reward of $2000 for his arrest. It is now believed that he fled to Australia.

NEW CANADIAN ROAD HAS GOOD PROSPECTS OF EARLY COMPLETION

LONDON, Oct. 12.—At the semi-annual meeting of the shareholders of the Grand Trunk railway, Canada, today the report of the board of directors was unanimously adopted. The president, Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, spoke most encouragingly of the prospects, particularly in respect to the Pacific extension of the Grand Trunk. He said he had the assurance of the Canadian government that they would commence work on the Eastern division immediately and complete the section from Winnipeg westward to the junction with the Fort Williams branch simultaneously with the completion of that branch. The president also gave details of the terminus secured at Fort Williams and at a point on the Pacific twenty-five miles south of Port Simpson.

MISSOURI WILL NOT ACT PRECIPITATELY WITH NEW YORK LIFE

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 12.—State Superintendent of Insurance W. D. Vandiver said today: "No action will be taken at this time against the New York Life Insurance company." Vandiver made the statement following the conclusion of a conference here today participated in by Governor Folk, Superintendent Vandiver and Attorney F. N. Judson and E. J. Crowe, representing the New York Life Insurance company. Attorney Judson contended that there is no authority under the laws of Missouri by which Vandiver could proceed to revoke the license of the insurance company, as he had threatened to do unless the money contributed for campaign purposes was refunded into the treasury of the company. Another conference may be held at Jefferson City.

EX-SPEAKER HENDERSON IN CRITICAL CONDITION BUT MAY LIVE MONTHS

DUBUQUE, Ia., Oct. 12.—There is little change in the condition of ex-Speaker David B. Henderson. Tuesday the ex-speaker had an unusually hard day which left him in a greatly weakened condition. Hancock, who recently took charge of his case, is of the opinion that death may come at any time and yet the patient may live six months or more. A sudden rush of blood to the head might kill him instantly. Trained nurses are constantly with him, the ex-speaker being in such a weakened condition that he is barely able to move.

Several of the manifestants were wounded. The meeting adopted a resolution calling on the government to disband the military forces.

PROFITS OF THE COTTON SCANDAL

CROP REPORT LEAK NETTED
ABOUT $200,000.

Assistant Statistician Holmes Made Big
Sums According to the Checks
Produced.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The profits of the alleged conspirators in the operations based on the recent leak in the government cotton crop reports are placed at approximately $200,000, according to an indictment presented in court today on the arraignment before United States Commissioner Ridgway of Frederick A. Peckham and Moses Haas. According to charges made in this indictment, E. S. Holmes, Jr., assistant statistician of the department of agriculture, received $25,017.

The indictment, which was found by a grand jury in Washington, on October 3d, is against Edwin S. Holmes, Jr., and L. C. Van Riper, as well as against Haas and Peckham, and charges all four collectively with having conspired to defraud by procuring advance information from Holmes concerning the cotton crop report.

Several copies of telegrams and also of checks which passed between the accused, tending to show that a conspiracy existed were presented. One of the checks, dated December 12, 1904, drawn on the Second National bank of Hoboken and signed by L. C. Van Riper, calls for the payment of $24,000 to Haas which sum, it is alleged, Haas paid Holmes in cash. Many other minor checks ranging from $100 to $500 are set forth in the indictment, in addition to another check signed by Van Riper and payable to Haas on the same bank for $38,292 dated December 31, 1904. Of this sum, it is claimed, Holmes got $10,767.

Counsel for the defense today moved for the discharge of the prisoners on the ground that the charges as alleged did not constitute an offense against the government. The hearing on the motion was adjourned until October 21st.

PEACE RATIFICATIONS WILL BE EXCHANGED BY ROUND ABOUT PLAN.

That government in turn will notify the French foreign office in Paris, through its own ambassador in that city, that the Russian emperor has signed the treaty. The French foreign office will notify its minister at Tokio and he in turn will inform the Japanese foreign office and this will be regarded as a formal exchange of ratifications.

NEW YORKERS

NEED ONE MORE

HAVE WON THREE OUT OF FOUR GAMES PLAYED.

Boston Americans Won the Deciding
Game at the Hub—Coast
League Results.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Three to one is now the advantage the New York Nationals hold over the Philadelphia Americans in the struggle for the world's championship. The New Yorks scored their third victory today and if they succeed in getting the better of the visitors in tomorrow's contest the world's championship flag will fly from the big mast in the polo grounds.

Philadelphia, heavily handicapped by the loss of the service of the erratic pitcher, Waddell, has succumbed to the masterful work of Mathewson twice and today McGinnity pitched gilt edged ball, which partially atoned for the defeat at the hands of Bender last Tuesday on the same diamond.

Manager MacK decided that his Indian pitcher should have a sufficient rest and put Plank in, who with good backing would have done better.

In the fourth inning Monte Cross was so anxious to guard a boundary from Mertes' bat that he fumbled the ball and juggled with it long enough to let the batter reach first base safely. This was the only error recorded in the game but it was an expensive one as it formed the nucleus of a run—the run which won.

McGinnity and Plank were equally effective but Plank managed to get a hit which the "iron man" failed to do. Attendance, official, 13,598. Score: R. H. E. New York 1 5 0 Philadelphia 0 5 1 Batteries—McGinnity and Bresnahan; Plank and Powers.

Two base hit—Devlin. Bases on balls—Off McGinnity 3; off Plank 2. Struck out by McGinnity 4; Plank 6. Umpires—O'Day and Sheridan.

Chicago Nationals Won.
At Chicago—Today, the third, one hundred and eighty-four people today witnessed a pitcher's battle between White and Weimer, in which the Nationals won the third game of the Chicago championship series. The Nationals were held down to three hits, two of which were made in the first inning.

In the second inning White gave a pass, made a wild pitch, and with Slagle's triple and two errors the Nationals made their three runs. White pitched superb ball after this and the Americans rallied in the eighth, but could not overcome the lead against them. Calahan's running catch of Chance's long fly was a feature. Score: R. H. E. Nationals 3 5 4 Americans 2 5 2 Batteries—Weimer and Kling; White, Sullivan and McFarland. Umpire—Connelly and Johnstone.

Boston Americans Victorious.
BOSTON, Oct. 13.—The Boston American league team today won the deciding game in the post series with the Boston Nationals. The series stands four to one in favor of the Americans. The American two games will be played off tomorrow as a double header.

Score: R. H. E. Americans 6 6 1 Nationals 2 8 4 Batteries—Rabb, Tannehill and Armbruster; Willis and Moran. Umpires—O'Laughlin and Emslie.

Makes Two All.
St. Louis—Taylor made his third attempt of the post season series to pitch the local nationals into a victory today and failed for the first time. The series now stands two to two. Score: R. H. E. Nationals 3 5 4 Americans 2 5 0 Batteries—Taylor and Grady; Hewell and Spencer.

Coast League.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—Williams was on the slab for the home today and his strong pitching prevented the Seattle batters from getting more than one hit in a single inning. He got perfect support and Seattle was consequently shut out. Four runs of San Francisco were made in two innings on bunched hitting. Score: R. H. E. Seattle 0 6 2 San Francisco 4 8 0 Batteries—Vickers and Blankenship; Williams and Shea. Umpire—Davis.

At Portland—Portland won from the leaders today because Garvin was more effective than was Iberg, the Texan holding the visitors down to three hits and fanning eight men. The fielding features were the work of Kelly at second, a fast double play by Garvin, Atz and Mitchell and throwing of McLean. Ed Rankin is officiating as umpire in place of Jim McKelton, who is confined to his bed with a severe attack of rheumatism.

Score: R. H. E. Portland 1 3 1 Portland 2 6 0 Batteries—Iberg and Byrnes; Garvin and McLean. Umpire—Rankin.

At Los Angeles.—Tozer pitched a magnificent game today, letting Tacoma down with two short singles and no runs. But one man, Lynn, got as far as second base, and he was forced there by Tozer hitting a batsman. But twenty-eight men faced the Los Angeles pitcher during the nine innings and in six of these the visitors went out in one, two or three order. The home team played gilt edged ball in the field as did also the visitors, neither side being credited with an error. Thomas started in to pitch for Tacoma but was hit for three singles in the first inning which, with a base on balls, and a double steal, netted the locals two runs. Brown then took Thomas' place in the box but was unable to stop the hitting. Score: R. H. E. Los Angeles 2 8 0 Tacoma 0 2 0 Batteries—Tozer and Fager; Thomas, Brown and Graham. Umpire—Perrine.

PRICES CURRENT.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Weakness in the wheat market developed toward the end of the first hour. At the start the tone was quite firm, December opening a shade to 1/2¢ higher at 80 1/2¢ to 80 3/4¢. A small advance at Liverpool was credited with being responsible for the opening. Moderate demand from the big long held the market firm for a time, notwithstanding several bearish factors. As a result of this buying, December held up 5/8¢. On withdrawal of the bull support the market broke a little, but December declined to 80 1/4¢. Pit traders and commission houses were free sellers. Large proportions in the Northwest were of large proportions. In the Southwest arrivals were larger than for the corresponding day a year ago. Weakness prevailed during the remainder of the session. Closing prices were at almost the lowest point of the day. Final quotations on December were at 80 1/4¢, a loss of 3/4¢.

The corn market was weak from start to finish. Values could not withstand the almost universal conviction that a record breaking crop is now possibly safe from all possible injury by frost. The market closed weak. December closed at 44 1/2¢, a loss of 1/2¢.

Prices were easier in sympathy with the weakness of other grains.

Provisions were strong on active demand from shorts and on fair buying for investment account. At the close January pork was up 1/4¢, lard 5/8¢ higher and ribs with a gain of 1/2¢.

Dried Fruit Market.

NEW YORK.—Evaporated apples ready on spot with common to good quoted at 30¢ to 40¢ and prime at 7¢.

Prunes are dull. Quotations range from 1 1/2¢ to 7 1/2¢, according to grade.

Apples remain strong on the coast. Choice 8¢, extra 9 1/2¢ to 10¢, and fancy 10 1/2¢ to 11¢.

Raisins are firmer. Loose muscatels are quoted at 5 1/2¢ to 7 1/2¢, seeded raisins 5 1/2¢ to 7 1/2¢, and London layers 8 1/2¢ to 10¢.

San Francisco Grain.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Wheat steady; 81 1/2¢ bid.

Barley steady, December 81 1/2¢.

Corn, large yellow, 81 1/4¢ to 81 1/2¢.

Brain 82 1/2¢ to 83¢.

Oil Stock Sales.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Morning session; 550 Associated—1000—157.

EMPEROR OF JAPAN GRACIOUSLY RECEIVED OFFICERS OF BRITAIN.

TOKIO, Oct. 13.—The emperor of Japan received Vice Admiral Sir Gerald Noel, commander of the British squadron now at Yokohama, and his staff officers in the Phoenix hall of the palace this morning and welcomed them heartily to Japan.

The emperor and the other military attaches who have arrived here from the front, were received in the audience simultaneously. All the visitors subsequently had lunch with the imperial family. Prince Arisugawa, the elder statesman and the cabinet officers also were present. The emperor and the empress then proceeded to the disposal of Admiral Noel and his party. The city today is again filled with British sailors and marines engaged in sightseeing. All classes are most hospitable. Yesterday's program of athletic games, etc., was repeated.

Odessa Students Obsolete.

ODESSA, Oct. 13.—A mass meeting of students held here today decided by a vote of 78 to 52, against reopening the Odessa university until the state of siege is raised and that it will then be reopened exclusively for a political struggle until full civil rights be granted to all Russians.

WHO KILLED HIM?

OR RATHER WHO SHOULD STAY?
LOSS OF JOHNSON'S HORSE?

Lute Gets Out on Habeas Corpus to Meet Arson Complaint From Visalia.

R. S. Johnson, the liveryman, is still trying to get $240 from Dr. A. B. Cowan because one of Johnson's horses ran away from Dr. Cowan and killed himself. The case was tried before Judge Austin yesterday afternoon, S. J. Hinds appearing for Johnson and J. P. Bernard and Sutherland & Barbour for Coroner Cowan. Johnson and W. H. Henderson testified that the horse was hired out to Cowan and that later they saw the animal in a dying condition in front of the Sequoia saloon. C. H. Sweet sold the horse to Johnson for $150. Johnson wants $200 for him. Sweet said the horse was worth that. Sweet said that the horse should not have been tied with a rope around his neck, but with a halter. This statement was decidedly in the coroner's favor, for Johnson gave him a rope instead of a halter. E. C. Buchanan said the horse was worth $200.

The defense rested with the story told by Dr. Cowan. Dr. Cowan tied the horse to a post. The horse began to pull back and began to choke. The doctor, fearing the animal would make a case for the coroner out of himself, unsnapped the rope. Whereat the animal tore off down the street, finally breaking his shoulder on an iron hitch-post in front of the Sequoia.

Attorney Hinds and Attorney Sutherland argued the case. Hinds said the coroner did not treat the horse in a horsemanlike way or the animal would never have run away. Sutherland said Johnson was at fault for sending out a rope instead of a halter and that Cowan did as any sensible man would have done under the circumstances. The case was submitted.

Lute Rearrested.

H. G. Lute was given his freedom long enough yesterday to be rearrested. He was in jail here on a complaint sworn to before Justice of the Peace Tucker of Selma, charging him with defrauding a liveryman. Attorney Henry Brickley got a release on habeas corpus on the ground that the complaint did not state sufficient grounds for action. As soon as out, Lute was arrested for arson. He is charged with setting fire to A. Huffaker's stable in Visalia.

In the habeas corpus proceedings District Attorney Jones argued that the complaint should suffice because the Supreme court has held that complaints need not set forth in detail the circumstances of the alleged offense. Judge Austin held that the complaint in this case was not sufficient. The complaint was drawn by Justice Tucker. Lute was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Walter McSwain as soon as the judge ordered his release. W. W. Collins, sheriff of Tulare county, took the prisoner to Visalia.

Lumber Not Paid for. A foreclosure on a lien was commenced yesterday by the Cross Lumber Co. against F. M. Graham, trustee in bankruptcy of the Cypress Oil Co., the Penn-Columbia Petroleum Co. and E. V. Ellis. The lumber company claims that last spring it furnished $1841.39 worth of lumber of which $1399.74 remains unpaid. The lumber was used in erecting oil well rigs, derricks and houses. Charles A. Ruggles of San Francisco is attorney for the plaintiff.

Deputy District Attorney Kauke will go to Pollock today to conduct the preliminary hearing of Hancock, the restaurant keeper who attempted to shoot a laborer named Peterson.

D. A. Cashin, B. J. Metzler and L. B. Hayhurst have been appointed to appraise the estate of Pamela A. Moffett.

HOBBS TO WELCOME THEM.

Preparations Complete for State W. C. T. U. Convention. The ladies of the local branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union held a meeting last evening at the residence of Mrs. Harcourt W. Peck on M street. The purpose was to conclude the arrangements for the coming state convention in this city.

The work of committees was reviewed and found to be in excellent state. Arrangements for entertainment are about complete. It was decided to make a request of the members of the High School senate to furnish four young men to act as ushers at each of the evening meetings. It is expected that most of the delegates will arrive in this city Thursday morning. In the afternoon the members of the state executive committee will at once hold a session.

On Thursday night there will be a meeting of welcome to the Young Men's Christian Association. President Hobbs of the Chamber of Commerce will deliver an address and welcome the visitors to a reception to be given by that body on Friday afternoon from 4 to 6 at the building in the city park. On Friday morning the serious work of the session will begin.

On Saturday evening, under the auspices of the state convention, a diamond medal contest will be held at the Y. M. C. A. hall. The medal to be awarded to the best speaker in the state is now on exhibition in Warner's jewelry window. Five young people are to take part from various portions of the state.

HIGH SCHOOL SENATE.

Officers Were Elected at Last Night's Meeting.

The High School senate held its regular meeting last night, with a good attendance. It being the regular meeting for election of officers, the following were elected: President, Benjamin Holden; vice president, Elmer Hanner; secretary, Thomas Brazil; treasurer, Henry Hopkins; librarian, Arthur Brown; sergeant-at-arms, Joseph Bracker. During the meeting an extemporaneous debate took place on the question: "Resolved, that the student body is beneficial to the Fresno High school." The question was carried by an unanimous vote. Honorary Senator Levy of Comediet was present at the meeting. Joseph Bracker drew the state of Maryland. A committee from the W. C. T. U. was present at the meeting and requested that a committee from the senate act as ushers at the coming convention of the W. C. T. U., but as no official action could be taken the question was left to individual members.
